The “Danzabile” Theatre is a professional dance-theatre company founded in 2005. The objectives of the company are to integrate various situations: those of physically disabled people or other genres with people without disabilities, in research stage work in which the language of the theatre and of dance blend together and become instruments that give voice and body to the experiences of everyone. It searches to give value to the possibility of allowing everyone to develop their own expressive and creative potential beyond the physical and/or mental conditions.
